Welcome to 2011! As you can see the weather has played havoc with timeframes But the builders are doing their best. The windows have just arrived and over the next few days we hope to get everything up to lock up stage.

I went for a walk through the Oran Park Town display village and Procorp's display again today...The Paperbark 3 they're building for us is such a nice house. I'm getting really excited as the Charity Build progresses and I'd suggest you have a look at the finished product in the display village too...It may tempt you to consider a bid at the auction. ☺

I'll update the pics as soon as work resumes. Steve
